About the Russia-Singapore Youth Business Council:

Developing during the shift of economic and technological paradigms young professionals better than anyone can perceive the future. They are the creative force of the new economy. Most of them want to make the world a better place by participating in social projects and exploiting technological advance in favour of sustainable development and economic growth of the countries represented. Promoting the participation of youth in the Russian-Singapore Business Council with assistance of the top universities of both countries will make it possible to expand the areas of cooperation between Russia and Singapore, will give a new impetus to interaction based on the potential of the new generation.

Goals of the Youth Council:

- To develop a dialogue and establish a system of cooperation between young professionals of Russia and Singapore,
- To participate in development and launching of joint projects in the sphere of Russian-Singapore economic cooperation,
- To bring together the efforts of Russian and Singaporean youth in pursuit of accomplishing the goals of sustainable development of the UN,
- To delve into studying the experience of other countries in the area of socio-economic development, elaboration and implementation of national strategies.
